

2019 TECHNICAL ACHIEVEMENT AWARD NOMINATION

Permanent Secretary
Awards Committee
National Association of Printing Ink Manufacturers

Date: _____

Sir:

I nominate _____ as the recipient of the NAPIM Technical Achievement Award. The nominee has served more than 15 years in the printing ink industry.

My reasons for this nomination are as follows:

1. Nominee has made the following significant contributions to the science of printing ink formulation, manufacture or application. (Disclosure of proprietary work is not required, please describe in general or generic terms.)

2. Nominee has published the following articles, papers, and/or patents contributing to the advancement of printing ink technology.

3. Nominee has participated in the following lectureships, seminars and similar educational activities for further dissemination of the knowledge of ink technology and/or management expertise. (Please include teaching at bona fide colleges or other educational institutions.)

(over)

4. Nominee has served NAPIM and/or NPIRI in the following capacities; officer, committee member, special project assignments listing dates. (NAPIM or NPIRI service is not required but may be helpful.)

5. Nominee has contributed to the development and dissemination of printing ink technology information through the following activities in allied graphic arts associations; officer, committee assignments, and etc. listing dates.

6. Other technological contributions and achievements.

NAME: _____

COMPANY: _____

NOTE: Additional pages may be attached as necessary.

Nominations will be closed for this award on September 13th, 2019. Please return this form to:

National Association of Printing Ink Manufacturers
15 Technology Parkway South
Suite 115
Peachtree Corners, GA 30092
email: jcopeland@napim.org

DATE: Tuesday, July 09, 2019
TO: Printing Ink Manufacturers and Raw Material Suppliers
FROM: Juanita Parris, NPIRI President

2019 NOMINATIONS FOR TECHNICAL ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

Does good technical competence have an impact on a successful printing ink company? You bet it does and here is your opportunity to recognize someone you know who has made a difference. This is an individual award so both NAPIM members and non-members are eligible.

Nominations are now open for NAPIM's Award for Technical Achievement. Ink companies and raw materials suppliers are invited to submit their nominations to the NAPIM office. This prestigious award will be presented at the Annual NPIRI Technical Conference The Drake Oakbrook October 15-17th, 2019 in order that the recipient may be honored before his or her peers. The enclosed brochure gives more information on the rules, history and past winners of the award.

Although the rules require a candidate to have been involved in the printing ink industry for at least fifteen years, this is not a service award. Instead, it is our intent to recognize achievement in any facet of the technical affairs of our industry. We realize that there may be people who have made significant technical contributions within their own company, but who may not be known outside their immediate company. Such people are most worthy of recognition and their nomination for consideration is encouraged.

When this award is presented at the Annual NPIRI Technical Conference in October, it will call attention to the vital role that technical people play in the advancement of our industry. Your participation in identifying someone to be honored is appreciated.

In order to allow the Selection Committee time for their deliberations, we ask that you return your ballots no later than September 13th, 2019.

Sincerely,

Juanita Parris
NPIRI President

enclosure